From the President

Dear Friends and Supporters,

NorCal Public Media has been providing educational programs for young learners for over 35 years. Children have always enjoyed the supplemental learning they receive from the entertaining children's programs on our TV channels, including Sesame Street, Mister Rogers, Curious George, and many others. Now that current COVID-19 safety measures demand our students learn at home, NorCal Public Media is advancing the level of educational support we provide Bay Area families.

Darren LaShelle
President and CEO

Our schedule of educational programs is designed to help educators and parents use the trusted shows and characters of public television for home classroom use. Tune in to Channel 22 on television or via livestream video on our website or the NorCal free mobile app for educational programs that are tied to California educational state standards for social studies, math, science, and reading. Find links to distance learning lesson plans at norcalpublicmedia.org/education.

Together, our community will get through these difficult times, and we'll make sure that parents have the tools they need to keep our kids educated and engaged for a brighter future.

New Transmitter Building for KRCB-FM Radio 91

KRCB-FM Radio 91 has a new transmitter building! At long last, after work was delayed by the shelter in place order due to the coronavirus pandemic, the new transmitter building was delivered and put into place this week.

Northern California Public Media is giving you this “peek behind the curtain” so that you can watch the progress of rebuilding our transmission facility on lower Geyser Peak after last year’s Kincade Fire. Your donations are what help maintain this building and the equipment in it.

As soon as we receive electrical power to the site, we will “hit the switch” and power-up the new transmission equipment. We are grateful for your patience while this work stretched out for so long.
